V. Judicial work of the Tribunal

A. The M/V “Louisa” Case (Saint Vincent and the Grenadines v. Kingdom of Spain)

23. On 24 November 2010, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines instituted proceedings before the Tribunal against Spain in a dispute concerning the arrest of the M/V Louisa (case No. 18 on the list of cases). The application instituting proceedings included a request for the prescription of provisional measures under article 290, paragraph 1, of the Convention. The Tribunal delivered its order on this request on 23 December 2010.

24. On 12 January 2011, the President set time limits for the filing of the memorial by Saint Vincent and the Grenadines and the counter-memorial by Spain. The time limits were extended by a further order, dated 28 April 2011, to 10 June 2011 for the memorial and 10 November 2011 for the counter-memorial. The memorial was filed within the time limit so prescribed.

25. By an order dated 30 September 2011, the Tribunal authorized the submission of a reply by Saint Vincent and the Grenadines and a rejoinder by Spain and fixed 11 December 2011 and 11 February 2012, respectively, for the filing of those pleadings.

26. On 4 November 2011, the President issued an order extending once again the time limits for the submission of pleadings in the case. The time limit for the filing of the counter-memorial was extended to 12 December 2011, and those for the reply and the rejoinder to 10 February and 10 April 2012, respectively. The counter-memorial of Spain, the reply of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines and the rejoinder of Spain were filed within the extended time limits.

27. The hearing took place from 4 to 12 October 2012, during which the Parties presented their oral statements at 13 public sittings. In accordance with article 75, paragraph 2, of the Rules, the parties presented the following final submissions:

On behalf of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, at the hearing on 11 October 2012:

The Applicant requests the Tribunal to prescribe the following measures:

- (a) declare that the Tribunal has jurisdiction over the Request;
- (b) declare that the Request is admissible;

- (d) order the Respondent to release the Gemini III and return property seized;
- (e) declare that the boarding and detention of the M/V Louisa and Gemini III was unlawful;
- (f) declare that the detention of Mario Avella, Alba Avella, Geller Sandor and Szusky Zsolt was unlawful and abused their human rights in violation of the Convention;
- (g) declare that the Respondent denied justice to Mario Avella, Alba Avella, Geller Sandor, Szusky Zsolt and John B. Foster and abused the property rights of John B. Foster;
- (h) order that the Respondent is prohibited from retaliating against the interests of Mario Avella, Alba Avella, Geller Sandor, Szusky Zsolt, John B. Foster and Sage Maritime Scientific Research, Inc., including the initiation of any procedure requesting the arrest, detention, or prosecution of these individuals or the seizure or forfeiture of their property in domestic Spanish courts;

(k) order reparations to Sage Maritime Scientific Research, Inc. in the amount of $4,755,144 (USD) for damages and an additional amount in the range of $3,500,000-$40,000,000 (USD) for lost business opportunities;

(l) order reparations to Saint Vincent and the Grenadines in the amount of €500,000 for costs and damages to its dignity, integrity, and vessel registration business; and

(m) award reasonable attorneys' fees and costs associated with this request as established before the Tribunal, of not less than €500,000.

On behalf of Spain, at the hearing on 12 October 2012:

On the grounds set out in the written pleadings and then elaborated in the course of its oral statements, and on any other grounds, the Kingdom of Spain requests the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea to adjudge and declare that:

1. the Application submitted by Saint Vincent and the Grenadines is not admissible and must be dismissed;
2. this honourable Tribunal has no jurisdiction in the case;
3. subsidiarily, the Applicant's contention that Spain has breached its obligations under the Convention is not well-founded;
4. consequently, each and all of the requests made by the Applicant must be rejected; and
5. the Applicant be ordered to pay the costs incurred by the Respondent in connection with this case, as determined by the Tribunal, but in an amount no less than US$ 500,000.

28. The Tribunal delivered its judgment in the case on 28 May 2013.

29. The facts of the case may be summarized as follows:

The M/V Louisa, a vessel flying the flag of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines was boarded, searched and detained by Spanish authorities on 1 February 2006. According to Spain, the vessel was detained and seized in connection with criminal proceedings and for carrying out "the crime of possession and depositing weapons of war ... together with the continued crime of damaging Spanish historical patrimony". Saint Vincent and the Grenadines maintained that the M/V Louisa was conducting surveys of the sea floor with a view to locating oil and gas deposits. Four persons were arrested and detained in Spain in connection with these criminal proceedings. The Spanish authorities also detained a second vessel, the Gemini III, which, according to Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, served as a tender for the M/V Louisa.

30. A main point of contention between the parties was whether the Tribunal had jurisdiction to entertain the case. On this matter, the Tribunal noted the disagreement between the parties on the scope of the jurisdiction conferred on it by their declarations made under article 287 of the Convention. It took the view that “in cases where States Parties have made declarations of differing scope under article 287 of the Convention, its jurisdiction exists only to the extent to which the substance of the declarations of the two parties to a dispute coincides” (see para. 81 of the judgment). The Tribunal also observed that jurisdiction was conferred on it only insofar as the dispute was covered by the more limited declaration. In this case, the declaration made by Saint Vincent and the Grenadines was more limited than that of Spain as it referred to disputes “concerning the arrest or detention”. The Tribunal considered that the use of the term “concerning” in the declaration of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines indicated that the declaration extended not only to articles expressly containing the word “arrest” or “detention” but to any provision of the Convention having a bearing on the arrest or detention of vessels. It concluded that the declaration of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines was meant to cover all claims connected with the arrest or detention of vessels flying the flag of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines. In relation to the Gemini III, the Tribunal found that it was not covered by the declaration of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines and concluded that in respect of this vessel it lacked jurisdiction.

31. The Tribunal further noted the disagreement between the parties on the question of the existence of a dispute between them concerning the interpretation or application of the Convention. In this regard, the Tribunal noted that the case before it had two aspects: one involving the detention of the vessel and the persons connected therewith and the other concerning the treatment of these persons.

32. According to the Tribunal, the first aspect related to the claim originally submitted by Saint Vincent and the Grenadines on the basis of articles 73, 87, 226, 227 and 303 of the Convention. After a careful examination of all provisions invoked, the Tribunal came to the conclusion that none of them could serve as a basis for the claims submitted in respect of the detention of the M/V Louisa and its crew. In particular, with regard to article 73 of the Convention, the Tribunal noted that the M/V Louisa was not detained “for the reason that the laws and regulations of Spain concerning the living resources in the exclusive economic zone had been violated” (see para. 104 of the judgment). In its view, the detention was made in the context of criminal proceedings relating to alleged violations of Spanish laws on “the protection of the underwater cultural heritage and the possession and handling of weapons of war in Spanish territory” (see para. 104 of the judgment). Concerning article 87 of the Convention, the Tribunal observed that this article deals with the freedom of the high seas, in particular the freedom of navigation and that it was not disputed that the M/V Louisa was detained when it was docked in a Spanish port. It concluded that article 87 could not be interpreted “in such a way as to grant the M/V ‘Louisa’ a right to leave the port and gain access to the high seas notwithstanding its detention in the context of legal proceedings against it” (see para. 109 of the judgment).

33. As regards the second aspect of the case, concerning the treatment of persons connected with the M/V Louisa, the Tribunal observed that this question was introduced by Saint Vincent and the Grenadines on the basis of article 300 of the Convention and only after the closure of the written proceedings. It also noted that this matter had been discussed during the oral proceedings and included in the final submissions of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines. Regarding article 300, the Tribunal found that “it is apparent from the language of article 300 of the Convention that article 300 cannot be invoked on its own” and that “[i]t becomes relevant only when ‘the rights, jurisdiction and freedoms recognised’ in the Convention are exercised in an abusive manner” (see para. 137 of the judgment). The Tribunal then considered that reliance on article 300 of the Convention generated a new claim in comparison to the claims presented in the application. In the view of the Tribunal, it is a legal requirement that any new claim to be admitted must arise directly out of the application or be implicit in it. The Tribunal therefore considered that it could not allow a dispute brought before it by an application to be transformed in the course of proceedings into another dispute which is different in character. For this reason, it was of the view that article 300 of the Convention could not serve as a basis for the claims submitted by Saint Vincent and the Grenadines.

34. The Tribunal concluded that no dispute concerning the interpretation or application of the Convention existed between the parties at the time the application was filed. It therefore found that it had no jurisdiction ratione materiae to entertain the case. In view of this finding, the Tribunal held that it was not required to consider any of the other objections raised to its jurisdiction or the admissibility of the applicant’s claims.

B. The “Arctic Sunrise” Case (Kingdom of the Netherlands v. Russian Federation)

35. On 21 October 2013, the Netherlands filed a request with the Tribunal for the prescription of provisional measures under article 290, paragraph 5, of the Convention in a dispute concerning the “boarding and detention of the vessel Arctic Sunrise in the exclusive economic zone of the Russian Federation and the detention of the persons on board the vessel by the authorities of the Russian Federation”. On the same date, a copy of the request was transmitted by the Registrar to the Ambassador of the Russian Federation to Germany, together with a letter addressed to the Minister for Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation. The case was entered in the Tribunal’s list of cases as case No. 22.

36. According to the Netherlands, the vessel Arctic Sunrise, flying the flag of the Netherlands, was boarded on 19 September 2013 in the exclusive economic zone (EEZ) of the Russian Federation by Russian authorities, who detained the vessel and the 30 persons on board. The vessel was subsequently towed to the port of Murmansk. On 4 October 2013, the Netherlands instituted arbitral proceedings, under annex VII to the Convention, against the Russian Federation. In the notification instituting arbitral proceedings, which was notified to the Russian Federation on 4 October 2013, the Netherlands requested the Russian Federation “to adopt and implement provisional measures to: (1) immediately enable the ‘Arctic Sunrise’ to be resupplied, to leave its place of detention and the maritime zones of the Russian Federation, and to exercise the freedom of navigation in said zones; (2) immediately release the crew members, and to allow them to leave the territory and maritime zones of the Russian Federation”.

37. Pending the constitution of the arbitral tribunal and after the time limit of two weeks provided for by article 290, paragraph 5, of the Convention, the Netherlands, on 21 October 2013, submitted to the Tribunal a request for the prescription of provisional measures.

38. In a note verbale dated 22 October 2013, received in the Registry on 23 October 2013, the Embassy of the Russian Federation in the Federal Republic of Germany stated:

Upon the ratification of the Convention on the 26th February 1997 the Russian Federation made a statement, according to which, inter alia, “it does not accept procedures provided for in Section 2 of Part XV of the Convention, entailing binding decisions with respect to disputes [...] concerning law-enforcement activities in regard to the exercise of sovereign rights or jurisdiction”.

Acting on this basis, the Russian Side has accordingly notified the Kingdom of the Netherlands by note verbale (attached) that it does not accept the arbitration procedure under Annex VII to the Convention initiated by the Netherlands in regard to the case concerning the vessel “Arctic Sunrise” and that [it] does not intend to participate in the proceedings of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea in respect of the request of the Kingdom of the Netherlands for the prescription of provisional measures under Article 290, Paragraph 5, of the Convention.

Meanwhile the Russian Federation has stressed its readiness to continue to seek a mutually acceptable solution to this situation.

39. Since the Tribunal did not include upon the bench a judge of the nationality of the Netherlands, the Netherlands chose David Anderson to sit as Judge ad hoc in this case pursuant to article 17 of the Statute and article 19 of the Rules.

40. By an order dated 25 October 2013, the President fixed 6 November 2013 as the date for the opening of the hearing.

41. Prior to the opening of the hearing, the Tribunal held initial deliberations on 4 and 5 November 2013.

42. Oral statements were presented at a public sitting held on 6 November 2013. In accordance with article 75, paragraph 2, of the Rules, the Netherlands presented the following final submissions at the hearing on 6 November:

The Kingdom of the Netherlands requests the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea with respect to the dispute concerning the ‘Arctic Sunrise’ to declare:

- (a) that the Tribunal has jurisdiction over the request for provisional measures;
- (b) the arbitral tribunal to which the dispute is being submitted has prima facie jurisdiction;
- (c) the claim is supported by fact and law;

to order, by means of provisional measures, the Russian Federation:

- (d) to immediately enable the ‘Arctic Sunrise’ to be resupplied, to leave its place of detention and the maritime areas under the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation and to exercise the freedom of navigation;

(e) to immediately release the crew members of the ‘Arctic Sunrise’, and allow them to leave the territory and maritime areas under the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation;

(f) to suspend all judicial and administrative proceedings, and refrain from initiating any further proceedings, in connection with the incidents leading to the dispute concerning the ‘Arctic Sunrise’, and refrain from taking or enforcing any judicial or administrative measures against the ‘Arctic Sunrise’, its crew members, its owners and its operators; and

(g) to ensure that no other action is taken which might aggravate or extend the dispute.

43. The Russian Federation did not participate in the public sitting held on 6 November 2013.

44. The Tribunal delivered its order on 22 November 2013.

45. In the order, in relation to the declaration made by the Russian Federation with respect to law enforcement activities under article 298, paragraph 1 (b), of the Convention, the Tribunal stated that the declaration “prima facie applies only to disputes excluded from the jurisdiction of a court or tribunal under article 297, paragraphs 2 and 3, of the Convention” (see para. 45 of the order).

46. Concerning the non-appearance of the Russian Federation, the Tribunal considered that the absence of a party or failure of a party to defend its case does not constitute a bar to the proceedings and does not preclude the Tribunal from prescribing provisional measures, provided that the parties have been given an opportunity of presenting their observations on the subject. The Tribunal noted that the Russian Federation had been given ample opportunity to present its observations but had declined to do so. It then considered that it had to identify and assess the respective rights of the parties involved on the best available evidence.

47. In the order, the Tribunal considered that, in the light of the positions of the Netherlands and the Russian Federation, “a difference of opinions exists as to the applicability of the provisions of the Convention in regard to the rights and obligations of a flag State and a coastal State, notably, its articles 56, 58, 60, 87 and 110”, and thus “a dispute appears to exist between these two States concerning the interpretation or application of the Convention” (see para. 68 of the order). According to the Tribunal, these provisions appeared to afford a basis on which the jurisdiction of the arbitral tribunal might be founded. Therefore the Tribunal concluded that the annex VII arbitral tribunal would prima facie have jurisdiction over the dispute. The Tribunal also considered that, under the circumstances of the case, pursuant to article 290, paragraph 5, of the Convention, the urgency of the situation required the prescription by the Tribunal of provisional measures.

48. For these reasons, the Tribunal prescribed, pending a decision by the annex VII arbitral tribunal, the following provisional measures under article 290, paragraph 5, of the Convention:

(a) The Russian Federation shall immediately release the vessel Arctic Sunrise and all persons who have been detained, upon the posting of a bond or other financial security by the Netherlands which shall be in the amount of 3,600,000 euros, to be posted with the Russian Federation in the form of a bank guarantee;

(b) Upon the posting of the bond or other financial security referred to above, the Russian Federation shall ensure that the vessel Arctic Sunrise and all persons who have been detained are allowed to leave the territory and maritime areas under the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation.

49. The Tribunal further decided that the Netherlands and the Russian Federation each had to submit an initial report not later than 2 December 2013 to the Tribunal, and authorized the President to request such information as he may consider appropriate after that report.

50. Within the prescribed time limit, the Netherlands submitted an initial report on the measures taken. In its report, the Netherlands informed the Tribunal that a bank guarantee had been issued on its behalf and that the Russian Federation had been notified of the issuance of the bank guarantee by a diplomatic note of 2 December 2013.

C. The M/V “Virginia G” Case (Panama/Guinea-Bissau)

51. On 4 July 2011, proceedings were instituted before the Tribunal through the notification of a special agreement in a dispute concerning the vessel Virginia G (case No. 19 on the list of cases).

52. By an order dated 18 August 2011, the President fixed 4 January 2012 as the time limit for the filing of the memorial by Panama and 21 May 2012 as the time limit for the filing of the counter-memorial by Guinea-Bissau.

53. On 30 September 2011, the Tribunal adopted an order authorizing the submission of a reply by Panama and a rejoinder by Guinea-Bissau and fixing 21 August and 21 November 2012, respectively, for the filing of those pleadings.

54. Subsequently, by an order dated 23 December 2011, the President extended the time limits for the submission of the memorial and the counter-memorial to 23 January 2012 and 11 June 2012, respectively. The memorial and the counter-memorial were duly filed within the extended time-limits.

55. By an order dated 8 August 2012, the President extended the time limits for the filing of the reply and the rejoinder to 28 August 2012 and 28 November 2012, respectively. The reply and the rejoinder were duly filed within the extended time limits.

56. Both Panama and Guinea-Bissau chose judges ad hoc pursuant to article 17 of the Statute and article 19 of the Rules. Tullio Treves was chosen as Judge ad hoc by Panama and José Manuel Sérvulo Correia was chosen as Judge ad hoc by Guinea-Bissau.

- (1) The International Tribunal has full jurisdiction under the Special Agreement and under the Convention to entertain the full claims made on behalf of Panama;
- (2) The claims submitted by Panama are admissible;
- (3) The claims submitted by Panama are well founded;
- (4) The actions taken by Guinea-Bissau, especially those taken on 21 August 2009, against the Virginia G, violated Panama’s right and that of its vessel to enjoy freedom of navigation and other internationally lawful uses of the sea in terms of article 58(1) of the Convention;
- (5) Guinea-Bissau violated article 56(2) of the Convention;
- (6) Guinea-Bissau violated article 73(1) of the Convention;
- (7) Guinea-Bissau violated article 73(2) of the Convention;
- (8) Guinea-Bissau violated article 73(3) of the Convention;
- (9) Guinea-Bissau violated article 73(4) of the Convention;
- (10) Guinea-Bissau used excessive force in boarding and arresting the Virginia G, in violation of the Convention and of international law;
- (11) Guinea-Bissau violated the principles of articles 224 and 110 of the Convention;
- (12) Guinea-Bissau violated article 225 of the Convention as well as the SUA Convention, as well as the fundamental principles of safety of life at sea and collision prevention;
- (13) Guinea-Bissau violated article 300 of the Convention;

(14) Guinea-Bissau is to immediately return the gas oil confiscated on 20 November 2009, of equivalent or better quality, or otherwise to pay adequate compensation;

(15) Guinea-Bissau is to pay in favour of Panama, the Virginia G, her owners, crew and all persons and entities with an interest in the vessel's operations, compensation for damages and losses caused as a result of the aforementioned violations, in the amount quantified and claimed by Panama in paragraph 450 of its Reply (p. 84), or in an amount deemed appropriate by the International Tribunal;

(16) As an exception to Point 15, the amount of moral damages requested in paragraph 470 of the Reply as due to Panama for moral damages is withdrawn and replaced by a request for a declaration of "satisfaction"/apology to the attention of the Republic of Panama, for the derogatory and unfounded accusations against the Virginia G and her flag State and as regards all aspects of the merits of the Virginia G dispute as from 21 August 2009;

2. SUBMISSIONS IN RELATION TO THE COUNTER-CLAIM

Panama respectfully requests the International Tribunal to:

B. Dismiss, reject or otherwise refuse Guinea-Bissau's counter-claim on the basis that Guinea-Bissau has no legal basis under international law and under the Convention to bring the counter-claim, given the existence of the required links between Panama and the Virginia G, or, in the alternative, on the basis that Guinea-Bissau's counter-claim is unfounded in fact and at law, and that the counter-claim is frivolous and vexatious;

[-] Panama did not violate article 91 of the Convention;

D. Declare, adjudge and order that Guinea-Bissau's Decree Law 6-A/2000, as was applied to the Virginia G (and as applied in general) in the EEZ of Guinea-Bissau, is a unilateral extension of the scope of the Convention, restricting the freedoms under the Convention, and, in effect, an extension by Guinea-Bissau of a type of tax and/or customs-duty radius, in violation of the Convention.

On behalf of Guinea-Bissau:

Alternatively that:

- (1) The actions of the Republic of Guinea-Bissau did not violate the right of Panama and of the vessels flying her flag to enjoy freedom of navigation and other internationally lawful [uses] of the sea, as set forth in terms of article 58(1) of the Convention.

112. The staff of the Registry consists of 37 staff members, of whom 17 are in the Professional and higher categories. The recruitment of staff members in the Professional category, excluding language staff, is subject to the principle of equitable geographical distribution, in accordance with regulation 4.2 of the Staff Regulations. The regulation provides that:

The paramount consideration in the appointment, transfer or promotion of the staff shall be the necessity for securing the highest standards of efficiency, competence and integrity. Due regard shall be paid to the importance of recruiting the staff on as wide a geographical basis as possible.

Taking into account the small number of staff in the Registry of the Tribunal, a flexible regional approach has been followed in this regard.

113. The Tribunal has taken steps to ensure that vacancy announcements are disseminated in such a way as to recruit staff on as wide a geographical basis as possible. Information on vacancies is transmitted to the embassies in Berlin of the States parties to the Convention, and to the permanent missions in New York. The information is also posted on the Tribunal's website and published in the press.

114. The Tribunal applies, mutatis mutandis, the recruitment procedures followed by the United Nations. In accordance with these procedures, the principle of geographical distribution does not apply to the recruitment of General Service staff. However, the Tribunal has also made efforts to recruit General Service staff on as wide a geographical basis as possible.
